PREFACE

Dr M. Selvam,
Principal,
DIET,
Uthamacholapuram, Salem-636 010.
Tamil Nadu.
Preface

People including teachers and students are at risk due to the unprecedented spread of COVID-19 with school closures across 188 countries (as of April 2020). Covid-19 pandemic has affected the normal life in Tamil Nadu resulting in the closure of Schools. Extended school closures may cause loss of learning and in-service training of the practising teachers. To prevent this, the way teaching and learning have happened so far needs to be redesigned. Digital education and on-line training allow the students and teachers to continue their learning till the schools reopen. The new learning may continue to influence the learning styles of children in the forthcoming years too.

DIETs have been established for imparting in-service teacher training to the practising teachers. Due to closure of schools, the normal teacher training activity is stopped. Hence, the DIET, Salem, Tamil Nadu planned to explore the alternative ways to provide continuous teacher training using Internet technology. It exploited digital technology successfully for building the capacity of the existing teachers.

DIET, Salem started the digital teacher training journey during COVID-19 pandemic from May 2020. It is using different modes of digital teacher training such as online mode, partially online mode, offline mode. It made a variety of efforts in the digital teacher training such as Booster Aid Concept Master, Concept Refresher, webinars, Course-lets, Pleiothematic Lecturers, Tele-gromming series, On-line teacher trainings, Digital Library, Massive Open Online course, Digital HOTS question bank, Digital question Bank for NMMs competitive examinations, subject educational specific videos, Digital video Lesson contents, Audio Recordings and Micro Videos.

The digital teacher training journey of DIET, Salem reached the teachers of not only Salem District it covered the teachers of Tamilnadu, India, Nepal, Bhutan, Pakisthan, Srilanka, Saudi Arabia and Camaroon countries.

Iexpress my heartfelt thanks to Salem-DIET Faculty members for making this success in Teacher Education without any interruption to the continuous professional development of teachers and stake holders of education during the pandemic.

Dr M. Selvam

The learning management system concept emerged directly from e-Learning. Although the first LMS appeared in the higher education sector, the majority of the LMSs today focus on the corporate market. Learning Management Systems make up the largest segment of the learning system market. The first introduction of the LMS was in the late 1990s. |

|                               | Learning management systems were designed to identify training and learning gaps, utilizing analytical data and reporting. LMSs are focused on online learning delivery but support a range of users, acting as a platform for online content, including courses, both asynchronous based and synchronous based. An LMS may offer classroom management for instructor-led training or a flipped classroom, used in higher education, but not in the corporate space. Modern LMSs include intelligent algorithms to make automated recommendations for courses based on a user's skill profile as well as extract meta-data from learning materials in order to make such recommendations even more accurate. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | ➤ A successful modal that was practised for teaching the students through remote mode was elaborated for the teachers. ➤ It is activity-based teaching taken up for language, Mathematics and Science during the lock down period by Pratham foundation. The main focus of the session highlighted the success story and it focused the following The number of children, youth and adults not attending schools or educational institutions because of COVID-19 has spiked globally. In India alone, an estimated 300 million learners across all age groups are out of school right now. Though temporary, school closures have a significant impact on students, even more so in the vulnerable and underprivileged contexts. Fear about health, disruption in livelihoods and stoppage of normal life – all lead to anxiety in families and communities. Children are not immune to tensions around them. In these times, it is important to engage children in activities that bring down stress, take minds off the crisis and gradually create an environment |

|                               | where learning can continue. Ensuring that their spirits are high and that they have opportunities for engagement and learning – is our first step to relief. To enable this, we have launched a daily engagement activity titled Karona, ThodiMasti, ThodiPadhai (Do it: A little fun, a little study) that equips parents to continue their child's learning process even during school closure. Through a series of curated SMS and WhatsApp messages, we share text/video/audio content focused on hands-on learning activities. While the Masti videos engage students in art, music, and theatre, the Padhai ones focus on language, Math, English and science learning. These messages are available 10 regional languages and English. Every day, our field teams connect with children and families engaging them in fun-filled, project-based learning activities, and further strengthening our one-on-one connect at the grassroots. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) Nearpod helps educators make any lesson interactive whether in the classroom or virtual. The concept is simple. A teacher can create interactive presentations that can contain Quiz's, Polls, Videos, Collaborative Boards, and more. The students can access a teacher's presentation through a code and the teacher then moves the class through the presentation and lets students interact with the media as they go. Teachers can also opt for Student-Paced mode, where the student controls the flow of the lesson. This mode is perfect for subject days, weather days, homework assignments, or independent work. The app is web-based and works on any device with an internet connection. Below are just ten ways of utilizing this multifaceted tool. 1) Simple presentation delivery At its most simple, you can use Nearpod as a substitute for other presentation tools. Instead of running a PowerPoint or Google Slides, you can utilize Nearpod and make the lesson more interactive. You can even 'drag and drop' your existing Google slides, PDFs and PowerPoints into the app for it to instantly create a Nearpod presentation. Then you can select from countless interactive activities |                                                                                         |

and formative assessments. The presentations will be beamed to each students' device in the classroom. You also do not have to rely on students being able to see the board.

2) Personalized provision

Following on from the idea of using Nearpod as a simple presentation tool, you could isolate the use of the app to one child or a small group. It could be that you are beaming extra teaching provisions to particular pupils during a starter. This could be the missing link that provides more support for a child with visual impairments. It could provide that extra bit of help for a low achiever in your class.

3)Distributing resources

Using the app to distribute resources is another simple way of using it in the classroom. You can fill your presentation with images or worksheets and ask the students to use the Student's Notes Feature to save the presentation to their drive to access the information later when studying for an exam or completing homework.

4) Live formative assessment

The app can become even more useful if you insert one of Nearpod's many formative assessment activities into your presentation. As a teacher, you can create customized Quizzes, Polls, Open-ended Questions, Matching Pairs, and more that can be used to check for students' understanding in real-time. The teacher can instantly gain insights into the classes' overall understanding and make adjustments on the fly.

5)Ongoing assessment

Why not utilize the formative assessments in Nearpod throughout a term to ascertain ongoing assessment data? When the students have finished a quiz, Nearpod will automatically create a report for you. You can access the reports directly through the app and download the data as PDF overviews, CSV files (to be embedded in Excel) as well as reports on individual students. This really helps you to gain a completely comprehensive understanding of your students' ongoing progress. It takes the grading out of your hands and does it for you.

6) Self-assessment

It is common practice in Primary and Secondary schools for students to assess themselves and evaluate their own confidence levels. This is usually achieved through a traffic light system that children are encouraged to draw in their workbooks. Red indicates a poor confidence level, amber indicates a fair understanding and green indicates a very good understanding of any given learning topic. Nearpod contains the option of inserting a 'Poll'. In this situation, students' opinions are questioned. This makes the 'Polling' tool a perfect feature to use when 'traffic lighting' in the classroom. The information is then saved in the aforementioned reports!

7) Modeling

The app also has a feature called 'Draw It' that can be built into your presentations. This beams an interactive whiteboard to the students' devices. The teacher's device will display all of the students' 'drawings' and the teacher can then 'share' individual whiteboards with the entire class. Hitting share will cause the chosen 'drawing' to appear on every device. This enables teachers to share good work and model good performances.

8) Open-ended tasks

Nearpod allows for creative flexibility. The 'Open-Ended Questions' feature allows the teacher to pose a question or set up a scenario for the students to respond to. With this tool, you can facilitate creative writing tasks. As a result, the advantage of using something like Nearpod for this kind of activity is that the ‘Open-Ended’ answers are then automatically logged in the reports.

9) Setting homework

All of the above examples revolve around the idea of using Nearpod in a Live session, but students can also engage on their own time. You can provide a Student-Paced code and they can access the Nearpod lesson at home, or anywhere with an internet connection.

10) Sharing and using pre-made resources

One way of using Nearpod involves almost no work at all. Tapping on the ‘Explore’ button within the main landing page of the app will take you through to a library of pre-made Nearpod lessons.

While many of the behaviors that are described as screen addition look a lot like other behavioral addictions, there are currently no clinical diagnostic criteria for a disorder called ‘screen addiction’. What that means is that we need to be aware that the term ‘addiction’ has a particular meaning, as well as implications for treatment approaches. That said, we may reach a point where problematic screen use does become a recognized behavioral addiction. In order to bypass the limitations of using the term addiction, we will call the types of behaviors we are describing as ‘problematic smartphone |

Although smartphones seem to be the main mobile device that kids are using, we extend the definition to tablets and other portable internet-enabled devices. The term screen addiction has likely come about due to the addiction-like behaviors we see in both adults and kids with respect to their screens. There are three main behaviors that help identify addiction, 1) cravings, 2) tolerance, and 3) withdrawal. Cravings are things we all have from time to time. You may have a craving for chocolate or ice-cream, and you know how hard it is to resist those things if you are experiencing a craving for them! You may recognize some of these signs already. You may notice your child starts to become preoccupied with wanting to spend time on their screen, often at the expense of other activities, even ones they used to enjoy. Tolerance is when the amount something you need to achieve a 'high' starts to get bigger. It's not hard to extend the notion of tolerance to screen use though. For example, where once you or your child may have been happy to spend 20 minutes on social media, gradually over time you have found that you, or your child, needs to spend more and more time on it to achieve the same sense of satisfaction or gratification. Finally, withdrawals often associated with feelings such as agitation, anger, depression and other negative symptoms. Surface in kids, you may notice a stark change in mood and behavior when devices are taken away or switched off. Feelings associated with withdrawal are usually mitigated quickly if the desired object is received. The expert recommended some exercises to help children overcome screen addiction. |

True CFS design requires the application of principles, not prescribed characteristics. (b) The main features of a given child-friendly school result from applying certain principles to a particular setting and context. There is no fixed set of features that must be in every child-friendly school. (c) When child-friendly school principles are applied consistently in different settings and contexts, similar, although not identical, characteristics ensue, which |

|  | should not be mistaken for the products of a rigid recipe or blueprint. (d) Some characteristics, such as child participation in the learning process, may be intuitively recommended for child-friendly schools, since they can be considered the inevitable, logical outcomes of applying CFS principles to almost any setting or context. (e) Making schools child-friendly is not an ‘all-or-nothing’ process. It can begin with one principle and phase in others over time in a strategic sequence that fits into local realities, promoting a ‘progressive realization’ of the CFS model. (f) The key principles that drive the child-friendly school process are so interrelated that interpreting and implementing any one principle invariably sets off a chain reaction that leads to related principles. (g) The role of teachers and school heads is so central to the CFS model that their training can usually be a good starting point for making schools child-friendly. Teachers and school heads do not simply work in these schools, they make schools child friendly and maintain schools’ child-friendly nature. (h) Important synergies are gained by linking key elements of the child-friendly school model. For instance, connecting teacher training to the preparation and provision of appropriate pedagogic materials makes the implementation of quality learning in the classroom more efficient. (i) There are cost savings to be gained through economies of scale, as implementation of child-friendly |

In most people, the two main language areas, known as Broca's area and Wernicke's area, are found in the left hemisphere. Sign language Visually based languages are also the domain of the left brain. People who are deaf show speech-like brain activity when watching sign language. Handedness Left- and right-handed people use the left and right brain differently. For example, a left-handed person uses their right brain for manual tasks and vice versa. Handedness is inbuilt, and it can even be detected while the baby is in the womb. Some babies prefer to suck their left or right thumb from as early as 15 weeks. Attention The two brain hemispheres also differ in what they pay attention to. The left side of the brain is more involved with attention to the internal world. The right side is more interested in attending to the external world. |

| Brief summary ofpresentation (250 words) | In the present world, children face a host of negative factors that influence them quite unknown to previous generations. Unfortunately, the safety net is fragile for many children. Without intervention, community support, and guidance they face daunting obstacles. Concern about an alarming rise of sense of insecurity, loss of purpose in life, major emotional and psychological problems, socially deviant behaviour and crime rate in children has been voiced from many corners recently. An urgent need for supplementing the existing systems with effective programs to support children at the time of emotional crises, prevent socially deviant behaviour and to rehabilitate those in conflict with the legal system has also been realised by many. Our children are extremely vulnerable. This is particularly so in transition societies undergoing rapid social and economic transformations. Kerala is no exception to this. Our children face multiple risks in the modern world. At |

The National Crime Record Bureau reports that crimes committed by children have increased by 145% in the past decade. Many of our children are drawn into a socially deviant life outside mainstream society and many are even enmeshed in a criminal life, out of which they are unable to extricate themselves. In 2010, Kozhikode City Police arrested more than 60 teenagers involved in theft of motorbikes, gold, computers, mobiles and cash. These incidents involved both boys and girls, and even included youth from financially and socially advanced sections of society. Subsequent investigation revealed that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A large number of young people were also involved in crime-related activities, viz. theft, robbery and dealing in stolen goods and destruction of evidence.</li> <li>• A number of teenagers, including girls, were engaging in socially deviant behaviour such as underage sexual activity, illicit use of drugs, etc.</li> <li>• Substance abuse among youngsters utilizing easily obtained items such as nail polish remover, petrol, etc.</li> <li>• Contraceptives were found in the schoolbags of girls in several city schools, indicating their involvement in sexual activity, either with peers or with adults</li> <li>• Students were in the habit of using supposedly beauty-enhancing tablets, which were actually illegal and addictive drugs.</li> </ul> Research on psychological and emotional factors underlying children's involvement in deviant behaviour |

The school will be the primary entry point for identification of the children and initiation of the program intervention. ORC will, however, also design appropriate interventions for childcare Institutions, operated by the Government and other NGOs. At the district level, ORC will be an integral part of District Child Protection Unit's institutional framework. In addition to the State Executive Committee, other state-level support staff and structures will include: (i) Nodal and Additional Nodal Officers; (ii) a State Action Group; (iii) a State Level Resource Centre; and a Pool of Volunteer Mentors, including some celebrities, willing to lead the team. ORC will also maintain an effective and robust monitoring system. This will help to assess its efficiency and effectiveness in achieving objectives, and facilitate timely and needed adjustments in the overall strategy or in the implementation arrangement that may become necessary from time to time. Close monitoring will also ensure that ORC is fine-tuned to the specific social context in each district. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | Conventional Understanding Of Inclusive education (IE) Inclusive education (IE) is a new approach towards educating the children with disability and learning difficulties with that of normal ones within the same roof. It implies all learners – with or without disabilities being able to learn together through access to common school provisions and community educational setting with an appropriate network of support services. Inclusive Education denotes that all children irrespective of their strengths and weaknesses will be part of the mainstream education. It is clear that education policy in India has gradually increased the focus on children and adults with special needs, and that inclusive education in regular schools has become a primary policy objective. 1. |  | The Constitution of India (26 November, 1949), clearly states in the Preamble regarding ‘the right to equality of status and of opportunity and to promote among them all’. The Article 41 of the Directive Principles of the Indian Constitution supports the right to work, education and public assistance in certain cases including disablement. Further, Article 45 commits to the provision of free and compulsory education for all children up to the age of 14 years. The concept of integrated education in India has emerged during the mid 1950s. The Union government established the University Education Commission (1948–1949), the Secondary Education Commission (1952–1953), university Grants Commission and the Kothari Commission (1964–66) to develop proposals to modernise India's education system. The Kothari Commission (1966) which highlighted the importance of educating children with disabilities during the post-independence period. Moreover the 93rd Amendment to the Constitution of India (now renumbered as the 86th), passed by the Lok Sabha on November 28, 2001, makes it mandatory for the government to provide free and compulsory education to “all children of the age of 6-14 years”, with its preamble clarifying that “all” includes children with disabilities as well. By the Constitutional amendment (86th Amendment) the Act 2002 has been enacted by the parliament making education a fundamental right of all children in the age group of 6-14 years. |

Inclusive Education as “Special Need Education” (SNE)For furthering the objectives of Education for all, it considered the fundamental policy-shifts required to promote inclusive education. It emphasizes that schools should accommodate all children regardless of their physical, intellectual, social, emotional, linguistic or other conditions. The Statement affirms: “those with special educational needs must have access to regular schools which should accommodate them within child centered pedagogy capable of meeting these needs”. The government is now committed to provide education through mainstream schools for children with disabilities in accordance with PWD ACT, 1995 and all the schools in the country will be made disabled/differently abled friendly by 2020 The Persons with Disabilities Act, 1995 stressed the need to provide free of cost education to all children in an appropriate environment till they are 18 years old. The National Trust Act (National Trust for the Welfare of Persons with Autism, Cerebral Palsy, Mental Retardation and Multiple Disability), 1999 also came in to existence. |

|  | 1. Defining the scope of Inclusivity Inclusive education means that all children - no matter who they are - can learn together in the same school. i. This must go beyond mere integration. The whole system must undergo change and the school must meet the diverse needs of all learners, enabling them to reach their full potential and contribute to community and national development. While many people agree with this principle, countries worldwide are grappling with implementing this principle at scale, especially in under-resourced systems. ii. Inclusive education should be a “non-negotiable” right for all children (UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO)). iii. Inclusive education is a real implementation of the basic human right to education. It is not only about attaining universal iv. According to UNESCO, inclusive education is seen as “a process of addressing and responding to the diversity of needs of all learners through increasing participation in learning, cultures and communities, and reducing exclusion from education and from within education.” v. The goal is that the whole education system will facilitate learning environments where teachers and learners embrace and welcome the challenge and benefits of diversity. Within an inclusive education approach, learning environments are fostered where individual needs are met and every student has an opportunity to succeed. vi. Our students today are all “native speakers” of the digital language of computers, video games and the Internet. Dr. Bruce D. Berry of Baylor College of Medicine. As we shall see in the next instalment, it is very likely that our students’ brains have physically changed – and are different from ours – as a result of how they grew up. But whether or not this is literally true, we can say with certainty that their thinking patterns have changed. Re-Framing of the IE should focus on the new methodology and the content which can situate the Digital natives. As a methodology Today’s teachers have to learn to communicate in the language and style of their students. As a Content: Basing on the the digital “singularity” there are now two kinds of content: “Legacy” content (to borrow the computer term for old systems) and “Future” content. “Legacy” content includes reading, writing, arithmetic, logical thinking, understanding the writings and ideas of the past, etc – all of our “traditional” curriculum. It is of course still important, but it is from a different era. Some of it (such as logical thinking) will continue to be important, but some (perhaps like Euclidean geometry) will become less so, as did Latin and Greek. “Future” content is to a large extent, not surprisingly, digital and technological. But while it includes software, hardware, robotics, nanotechnology, genomics, etc. it also includes the ethics, politics, sociology, languages and other things |

This “Future” content is extremely interesting to today’s students Conclusion There is consensus between international organizations about how to define inclusive education. Many nations support these definitions, which emphasize inclusive education as an important premise in order to secure equal educational rights for all students. The basic ideas behind inclusive education relate to dominating and common democratic values and social justice. Ideally, inclusion appears as a multi-dimensional issue, where the different elements can support or weaken each other. Sometimes the concept of inclusive education is considered as same as with the concept of integrated and mainstreaming. But the concept of inclusive Education is a different concept from the concept of integrated and main streaming. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | How to rectify the fear over learning English Five important aspects that will help the teachers to teach their students Improving the communicative skill of the teachers and students. Activities that need to be practiced for improving the communication skill in English. The session highlighted the following points Communication skills play a significant role in defining one's personality. And hence you need to improve your skills. You may be knowledgeable &amp; talented. But if your communication skills are not strong you have to face awkward situations in life. When people say, 'We have a great relationship,' what they often mean is how they feel when they talk with one another. They mean, 'I feel positive toward that person when we interact. I send and I receive positive vibes with them.' COMMUNICATE TO CONNECT <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Respect &amp; Value</li> </ul> |

| Brief summary ofpresentation (250 words) | Basics of Robotics and drone technologyRobotics deals with the design, construction, operation, and use of robots and computer systems for their control, sensory feedback, and information processing. A robot is a unit that implements this interaction with the physical world based on sensors, actuators, and information processing.Avenues that are present around the world for the field of roboticsRobotics is the confluence of engineering and science that includes mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, computer science also it is no more an emerging field as it has evolved so much in the last 10 years and it is nearing an apex point .It is an ever growing field and many avenues have opened up in recent past. The promise of robotics is easy to describe |

|                               | but hard for the mind to grasp. A robot is a mechanical or virtual intelligent agent that can perform tasks automatically or with guidance, typically by remote control. In practice a robot is usually an electro-mechanical machine that is guided by computer and electronic programming. Robots hold the promise of moving and transforming materials with the same ease as a computer program transforms data. But the grey spot remains wide when it comes to Research awareness in the field of Robotics and Automation. Sooner or later Robotics and automation will find its application in every facet of human life. The 3 here explained how to learn and teach robotics in Tamil. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | How to identify archeologically important stones around your surrounding. The teaching of and about archaeology is a subject of global interest. As a subject, archaeology has the potential to both engage the public in the study of the past and to also increase awareness of environmental and cultural heritage preservation. As a mode of teaching, archaeological thinking is an educational tool in itself, creating a learning environment which is instantly engaging. Incorporating of archeological techniques in the classroom. Understanding the processes that shape the archaeological record (landscapes, sites, objects) converts archaeology into a time machine that allows us to see how life was hundreds or thousands of years |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | Identification of birds in and around the schools.How to train students to watch birdsIntroduction of Birds that are peculiar for the students.Outreach and Education is a programme that is closest to our hearts. We help people to cultivate and nurture the connections with nature through birds. Since 2017, we have conducted more than 150 outreach and education programs and reached out to more than 10,000 school children, college students, teachers and the public alike.Birds thriving in the cities and towns are rarely looked upon and we hardly realize their services and impacts in our lives. Eg. Crows and Kites feed on the organic wastes that we throw and keep the city clean! There is also a prevalent misconception that you need to travel to see birds. No! Even in the middle of a bustling city, one can see a great diversity of birds and be amazed at their |

Those who don't have regular opportunities to go outdoors, we encourage and guide people to enjoy birds and nature right from their homes. Wetlands are the source of water that supports all forms of life. The loss and damage to wetlands and their biodiversity continues to happen due to unprecedented anthropogenic pressures which have also begun to have direct and serious negative impacts in our lives. Our work strives to promote the value of wetlands by undertaking systematic an long-term monitoring of waterbird populations, wetland restoration and community engagement so that wetlands can be treasured and appreciated for their beauty and the life resources they provide us. |

| Brief summary of Presentation                        | Theatrical mode Harichandra's drama, which Gandhiji saw at a young age, made him live as a truth teller for the rest of his life. Steps of Play <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Selection of Suitable parts for acting</li> <li>2. Designing suitable method for acting</li> <li>3. Acting as a drama</li> </ol> Characters in the play time and place of the play the background characters should also plan costume , makeup, etc Drama in the Classroom Environment Singer gains clarity and ability to see the play by acting out the part that requires a voice and story line that expresses the new emotions that are realistic to make the course a play. |

| Brief Summary of the ICT initiative | DIET –Uthamacholapuram, Library has taken up the new initiative and steps to disseminate and provide the information through digital mode in the name of “DIET SALEM DIGITAL LIBRARY”-(DSDL).This concept was conceived by us during the COVID-19 pandemic periods. During the lock down, the educators were not able to utilize the library physically in DIET campus. We were planned to start a DSDL-Digital Library group through Google forms registration. We had received good number of registered users from DIET faculties, School Teachers, and other educational communities. In this Digital library (DSDL) service is to collect the factual data and convert it in to useful source and to deliver and disseminate to those ,who have registered in this service. Our Digital Library services provides the E-Content, E-Documents, E-Journals, E-Magazines and other educational related web links to the users. This DSDL-Digital library services done through the G-mail and other social media network applications. In near future DIET Library planning to start a open educational resources repository to collect and store all the information related to education and DIET activities for open access mode. |

| Brief Summary          | Digital Self-Learning content was designed and constructed by Dr. M. Selvam, Principal, DIET, Uthamacholapuram, Salem-636010. This Digital self Learning content was named "Concept Refresher". Mr S. Manikandan, Mrs. R. Kavitha, Lecturers of Educational Technology Branch, Mrs T.M. Dhanalakshmi and K. Saravanan provided technical support. Mr Thangaraja, Secondary Grade Teacher made animation part and Mr M. Mohan Kumar, Drawing Teacher (Retd.,) supported in Drawing component for this initiative. Constructivism has been widely adopted as a reference for research, curriculum development and recommended pedagogy in education. The concept Refresher considers key issues relating to the adoption of constructivist thinking in education which have arisen within the field of education. The concept Refresher gives an outline of the developing influence of constructivism in education and the common understandings of the term in relation to learning. In addition to the above, the concept refresher deals perspective on Teaching and Learning, principle of cognitive development, personal constructivism, exploring student thinking and learning. |

Augmented Reality (AR)

Augmented reality (AR) is the real-time use of information in the form of text, graphics, audio, and other virtual enhancements integrated with real-world objects.” – Gartner's IT Glossary. “Augmented reality is the rendering of digital images or data onto real-world objects.”

நமது நிகழ்வில் அல்லது பார்க்கின்ற நிகழ்வில் புதியன வற்றை புகுத்துதல். மேலும் புதிதாக digital layer கொண்டு வருவது Augmented Reality.

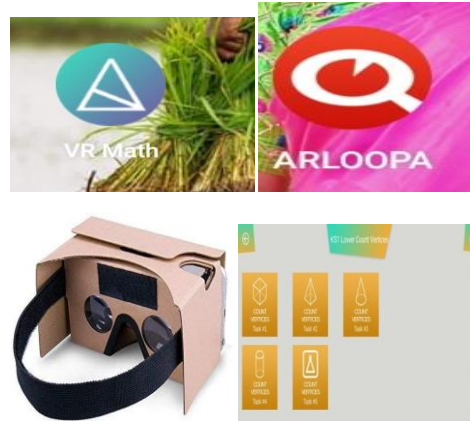

அந்த digital layer எழுத்தாகவோ, செய்தியாகவோ, பொருளாகவோ மற்றும் digital character ஆகவோ கொண்டு வரலாம்.

சமீபகாலங்களில் பல துறைகளில் இது பெரிதும் பயன்படுத்தப்படுகிறது.

குறிப்பாக மருத்துவம், பொறியியல், மற்றும் கல்வித்துறை. எடுத்துக்காட்டாக வீட்டின் வரவேற்பறை, கழிவறை மற்றும் படுக்கையறைகளை நவீன வடிவில் கண்டு அதை அமைப்பது.

போக்கேமான் game இதற்கு சரியான எடுத்துக்காட்டாக கூறலாம்.

Around 90 teachers actively participate in this programme Day :1 How to convert our classroom into a smart classroom using simple ICT tools The following concepts are dealt with in the day 1 programme <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A computer is an electronic device that manipulates information or data. It can store, retrieve, and process data. Teachers may already know that they can use a computer to type documents, send an email, play games, and browse the Web. Teachers can also use it to edit or create spreadsheets, presentations, and even videos.</li> <li>• When most people hear the word computer, they think of a personal computer such as a desktop or laptop. However, computers come in many shapes and sizes, and they perform many different functions in our daily lives. When you withdraw cash from an ATM, scan groceries at the store, or use a calculator, you're using a type of computer.</li> </ul> |

|                                    | 6 Easy Steps to Make a Mind Map <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Enter the Main Topic. Start by entering the main subject in the center of the mind map, for instance, “Capitals of the world”.</li> <li>2. Brainstorm Topics. Create main branches to enter your topics such as “London”, “Paris”, “New York” and “Beijing”. Do not worry about the order of the topics.</li> <li>3. Create Sub-Topics. Elaborate on your topics by creating sub-topics. Make sure to use very short phrases or even single words.</li> <li>4. Rearrange the Topics. If you need to rearrange the topics in your mind map, most software tools allow you to drag-and-drop branches. This will enable you to structure the topics that you brainstormed.</li> <li>5. Add Images and Formatting. According to the mind mapping theory, images and colors improve memory retention. You can use different colors and fonts and place images on branches.</li> <li>6. Notes and Research. Take notes of your topics and attached research files - if your mind mapping software allows you to.</li> </ol> The following online types of mind maps are dealtwith during the training. |

| A summary of the presentation (250 words) | During the lockdown period Webinar was organized by Salem DIET, Work Experience Branch for Tharamangalam block teachers on 16.5.2020 from 10.30 am to 12.30 pm through Zoom. The second day package programme on “Online Programme on ICT- How to create a simple animation using 3D models” was started. Dr M Selvam, Principal, DIET, Salem convened the webinar, Dr S V VijayalakmiShankar, Senior Lecturer organized it and MrPrabhakaran, SGT,PUES,Pallikondanparai,Tharamangalam block, Salem Dt acted as the Resource person. Around 91 teachers have actively participated in this programme. Day: 8How to create a simple animation using 3D models The following concepts are dealt in day 8 Digital modeling (3D model, 3D mesh, or 3D modeling) refers to the process of creating a mathematical representation of a three-dimensional shape of an object.Models may be created in many different ways. You can create 3D models manually, or by generating them, or by automatically scanning objects. The manual modeling process of preparing geometric data for 3D computer graphics is similar to plastic arts such as sculpting. You also can use various algorithms to generate 3D geometric data. How to build: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Make sure that you set-up the project so that you know where your scene file will be located.</li> <li>• Create a new scene and save it.</li> </ul> |

|                                    | Naming Use alphabet, numbers, and underbar to make names. It is important to name and organize your objects in the scene to manage complexity in the progress. Parenting &amp; grouping Observe how the rotation value applies differently when you do parenting or grouping. Duplicate Special You can duplicate all the right parts to its counter left parts using Duplicate Special. |

It also manages user information for personalized delivery including their user profile, job functions, and preferences. Blackboard, Schoology, Docebo, TalentLMS, Edmodo. Moodle, D2L, Brightspace.... For students or learners, a CMS is more of a passive application where they can simply view documents. With an LMS, learners can view, listen, and interact with the data. They have the option to try examples, |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | Questioning skills are useful to instructors for effective planning in class room activities, for designing homework assignments, and for preparing test items. It also helps the teacher to match their goals or objectives used for an instructional purpose. Good questions are essential to effective communication between : the teacher and the taught. The teacher who lack the skill to effectively question their student create disinterest and boredom on the part of the student. They also ignore a fine opportunity to open communication lines for determining the effectiveness of the lesson. Good questions expand on central thoughts, develops the subject, and not on minor, nice-to-know points. The skill of asking questions in the class room teaching is very important. By asking questions again and again, the teacher makes the pupils more thoughtful. He enables them to understand and subject deeply. Questions are those which help the pupils to think in depth about the various aspects of the problem. The above said aspects were detailed out and variety of question types were introduced with examples. |

|    | iv). Introduction of the initiative: | Digital Learning is revolutionary and is constantly changing in step with new advances in technology, particularly with the advent of modern internet user experiences. Today's technology allows us to personalize the learning experience to suit our individual learning needs and time schedules. Understanding the types of digital learning is essential if you want to fully capitalize on the digital learning revolution.                                                                                                                                                       |
|    | v). Need of the initiatives          | The future of Digital Resources will rely on how well teachers are able to use them in the classroom, which means that they will have to think differently about how they teach. We have put together a list of online tools that teachers can use to enhance their experience in the classroom, and they can help students have a stronger learning environment. So, the training is planned to train the teachers to prepare digital resources in science and social science through online mode. This training is very essential for the teachers for their Professional development. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | In psychology and neuroscience, memory span is the longest list of items that a person can repeat back in correct order immediately after presentation on 50% of all trials. Items may include words, numbers, or letters. The task is known as digit span when numbers are used. During memory span testing, the test taker is read a list of number, letters, or words and then asked to repeat as many as they can remember. The average memory span is seven items. New research suggests that yoga improves parts of the brain that control memory, attention and mood. The good news is that everyone – including beginners – can add yoga to their daily exercise regimen to tap into these remarkable benefits. An asana is a body posture, originally and still a general term for a sitting meditation pose, and later extended in hatha yoga and modern yoga as exercise, to any type of pose or position, adding reclining, standing, inverted, twisting, and balancing poses. "Pranayama is control of Breath". "Prana" is Breath or vital energy in the body. On subtle levels prana represents the pranic energy responsible for life or life force, and "ayama" means control. So Pranayama is "Control of Breath". The expert presented the online training for primary school teachers to learn and teach yoga for Enhancing immediate span of memory. schools of Salem district. Duration of the training was 2 hours covering motivational songs, demonstration of practicing asana and pranayama. Further, the procedure to administer the test for measuring immediate span of memory was explained with procedural manner.

|                   | teaching should be trained to handles those particular Learning outcomes in a better way for the student's enhanced understanding. NAS is the largest ever assessment Survey in the country conducted for Classes 3, 5 and 8 in the Government and Government Aided Schools. The Survey tool used consists of Multiple test items, which are competency based reflecting the Learning Outcomes developed by NCERT. Along with the test items, Questionnaire pertaining to students, teachers and schools are also used. Hence this training is designed to improve the teaching process of the teachers and in-turn to create students with greater quality. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | Questioning skills are essential to good teaching. Teachers often use questions to ensure that students are attentive and engaged, and to assess students' understanding. What is important to note is that in addition to the intent of the question, the question itself matters. One of the commonly used questioning techniques is to employ the 5W and 1H questions: Who, What, Where, When, Why and How. While this questioning technique is useful to some extent, most of the 5W questions tend to be close ended and elicit factual responses. Although factual responses are necessary, as good teachers we need to promote higher level thinking skills as well. One way to address this would be to use Bloom's taxonomy of thinking skills as a guideline to ask questions. To move from common pattern, in this training new zones like logical thinking, analogy, syllogism, probing questions, critical thinking questions were framed with examples from text books. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | Questioning skills are essential to good teaching. Teachers often use questions to ensure that students are attentive and engaged, and to assess students' understanding. What is important to note is that in addition to the intent of the question, the question itself matters. One of the commonly used questioning techniques is to employ the 5W and 1H questions: Who, What, Where, When, Why and How. While this questioning technique is useful to some extent, most of the 5W questions tend to be close ended and elicit factual responses. Although factual responses are necessary, as good teachers we need to promote higher level thinking skills as well. One way to address this would be to use Bloom's taxonomy of thinking skills as a guideline to ask questions. To move from common pattern, in this training new zones like logical thinking, analogy, syllogism, probing questions, critical thinking questions were framed with examples from text books. |

For two days 625 members were registered and 610 members were participated in it. Math seems difficult because it takes time and energy. Many people don't experience sufficient time to "get " Math lessons, and they fall behind as the teacher moves on. Many move on to study more complex concepts with a shaky foundation. We often end up with a weak structure that is doomed to collapse at some point. Mathematics is a wide – spread material needed by the human being in his daily life and needs coordination and facilitate that student can pass it easily. Mathematics is a broad material in which full of rule and analysis that needs to be training, exercising and thinking. It should be testing the students mind and thinking .It requires effort and fatigue and facilitates the understanding level of the subject and treats the low level of student's knowledge in the face of the material. All learners have the difficulty to understand and remember the ideas behind the study of mathematics. First of all, math cannot be fully understood or learned well without practicing concrete ideas. If one just remembers all the rules and procedures without understanding the concepts he /she will no doubt has difficulty learning mathematics. Teaching Math through concrete ideas is very essential for the school students. Because |

|                                    | students usually memorizing math concept instead of deep understanding due to abstractness of the subject. To avoid these, Utilization of math park helped teachers as well as students to teach the concepts in a concrete way and learn the subjects through learning by doing methods(Pragmatic way). Teaching and learning take part in a successful manner in the classroom. |

| Brief summary of presentation (250 words) | Professional development refers to all training, certification and education that a worker needs to succeed in his or her career. It's no secret that different jobs require different skills. Even if a worker currently has the necessary skills, he or she may need additional skills in the future. Research is the systematic investigation into and study of materials and sources in order to establish facts and reach new conclusions. Research is a vital part that helps in the development. Action Research is conducted in the grass root level for better developments and solving the issues faced by the teachers in his/her classroom or school environment. Teachers are the people in the education system who works at the grass root level. To have better developments right from the grass root level the teachers should be trained on action research skills which will help him/her to work independently. The teacher needs to develop knowledge and skill. This knowledge acquisition process should not reduce or hinder the quality teaching learning process of the schools. Hence the investigator has designed |

|                                      | this study which provides training on research skills through Learning Management System without disturbing the class room teaching time of teacher. A module containing 5 units have been prepared by the investigator and training of the same will be provided to the teachers with Learning Management System (LMS). The course is for six days with 100 participants. A online workshop using ZOOM was conducted for the registered participants to explain the procedures of the programme and pre-test also conducted. Manual for guiding the participants to login to the course, accessing course material, accessing 'Teacher Support Video' and accessing the Quiz for each unit were explained in the workshop. They will be evaluated after each module using LMS. Finally they will be asked to conduct an action research study in their own classroom. |

| Brief Summary          | Digital Book on 'Preparing Special Whoo'pee and Tactics (SWAT) e-content' was designed and developed by Dr M. Selvam, Principal, DIET, Uthamacholapuram, Salem-636 010. The cornerstone of any education system is teachers. The quality of education depends of its teachers. In order to ensure continuous flow of talented and qualified teachers to meet the expanding needs of school education a special drive may be needed to attract and incentive talent to pursue teaching as a career. Pedagogical content and its various tools which are very vital to increase the quality of learning experience in the different educational programmes. In this digital era, teaching and learning process should be ICT enriched. Knowledge in ICT skills and preparation of e-content have to be updated as there is a paradigm shift from traditional method of teaching to ICT based teaching. |

|    | iv). Introduction of the initiative: | As educators, our aim is to get students energized and engaged in the hands-on learning process, and video is clearly an instructional medium that is compelling and generates a much greater amount of interest and enjoyment than the more traditional printed material. Using sight and sound, video is the perfect medium for students who are auditory or visual learners. With the added use of subtitles each child then has the choice to watch, listen to, or read |

Video stimulates and engages students creating interest and maintaining that interest for longer periods of time, and it provides an innovative and effective means for educators to address and deliver the required curriculum content.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|    | v). Need of the initiatives     | Numerous research studies have shown using video in the classroom to be greatly beneficial to students' academic performance. According to Howard Gardner's multiple intelligences theory, traditional teaching methods, including lecture and textbook approaches, may only appeal to learners who lean toward a linguistic approach. Video combines many kinds of data (images, motion, sounds, text) in a complementary fashion, learning can be adjusted to the diverse learning styles of students. Teaching methods that include the use of video and audio "reach more students and provide more opportunities for neural development and learning." |
